Local 212 Picnic Is Rousing Success As 650 Carling Family Members Attend

A wonderful time was had by all at the recent Local 212 Family Picnic, with the only regret being that the big outing comes but once a year!

More than 650 persons attended the gala outing, held at St. Lorenz Church Grove, and there was something for everybody -- games, contests, sports, and good food and refreshments.

The softball game involving the Brewers and the Bottlers was won by the Bottlers, 6-2, with Jack Strobel the winning pitcher and Bill Rauh the loser. In volleyball, the Supervisors took two straight games from the combined Brewers and Bottlers.

The 15-man team of the Bottlers won the tug-of-war from the Brewers, and in the colorful greased pig event, Bill Rauh "brought home the bacon."

The $10 bill atop the greased pole was taken by Eugene Reinholdt, Melvin Bierlein, Jerry Rau, and Dalton Kaul, who combined efforts to reach the top of the slippery pole. Winners in the chicken chase were Glenn Harris, Connie Bradburn, Willie Dell, Gary Rushford, and Tom Keinath.

In the husband-finding event, Mrs. Edward Hogan proved most adept at spouse-finding to win first prize.

PAUSING TO rest on swings are, left to right, Diana Kaul, daughter of Al Kaul, Bottleshop; Marilyn Lash, daughter of Arthur Trumble, Bottleshop; Joan Rupprecht, daughter of Clarence Rupprecht, Quality Control; and Sally Pagels, daughter of Lawrence Pagels, Accounting, who consented to pose prettily for this photograph.

This Issue Big - - But Not Big Enough!

Despite the addition of two additional pages to present pictorial coverage of the recent Local 212 Picnic, your editors must apologize for omitting several worthwhile news stories from this issue of the Carling Frankenmuth News.

We hope you'll forgive us our inability to crowd all the news into this issue, and we promise our October issue will be out somewhat sooner so that these items may be presented at the earliest possible date.

Saginaw County United Fund Campaign Sets Goal of $712,500 For 1958 Needs

With but a nominal increase of $3,050 in the total Saginaw County goal, the 1959 United Fund drive will get underway on Monday, October 13th with every expectation that the drive again will be a success.

Last year, Carling Frankenmuth personnel cooperated wonderfully in the county campaign, contributing more than $3,150 to the United Fund.

This year's United Fund goal of $712,500 will make necessary the continued cooperation of Saginaw County citizens if vital welfare activities are to be carried on next year.

Last year, for the first time, Carling personnel joined in a payroll deduction plan for contributing to the United Fund, with approximately 85 per cent of all personnel signing up for payroll deductions.

Vice President Les Freidinger, who again this year is serving as chairman of the Out Saginaw County Division, will direct all United Fund activities in the entire county, outside of the City of Saginaw. That area embraces 23 townships and six villages.

Serves Budget Committee

Wallace Riethmeier also will serve the United Fund as a member of the Budget Committee, and as a director of the Frankenmuth campaign.

Directing solicitations in the plant will be Herbert Naegele, personnel and safety director, and George Schmunk, president of Local 212.

In addition, many of our people and their families will give of their time -- as well as of their money -- by serving as solicitors in the door-to-door campaign that will be conducted.

Atlanta Plant Is Growing Threat To Our 'Safest Carling Plant' Record

Achievement of a third consecutive year without a lost-time accident -- a milestone passed on September 8th -- brought nation-wide recognition to our plant and personnel.

Widespread newspaper publicity told of the record, and the United States Brewers Foundation in its Newsletter pointed out that the record is "rarely achieved and much-coveted." Thus, the entire brewing industry joined in saluting Carling Frankenmuth personnel for their outstanding record.

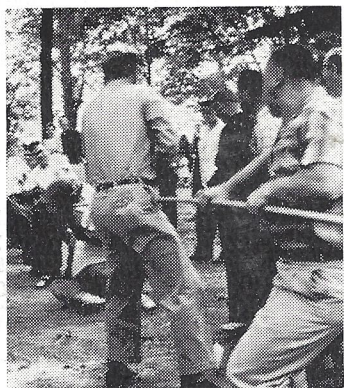

On the heels of this announcement, however, came a report from our Atlanta plant to the effect that we're going to have stiff competition in matters of safety from our new southern associates.

So far, the Atlanta plant personnel also have maintained a record free of lost-time accidents, and apparently they're determined to maintain that record, too.

Hence, in our intra-company competition for top safety honors and the Carling President's Cup, we have a new threat to our position at the top of the Carling group.

We certainly extend our every good wish to Atlanta personnel in their efforts to make every day a safe day, but we don't, on the other hand, intend to relinquish our reputation as the safest Carling plant in which to work!

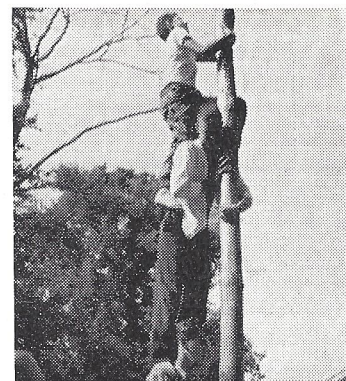

Family Picnic Fun Is Shared by 650 Persons at St. Lorenz Church Grove

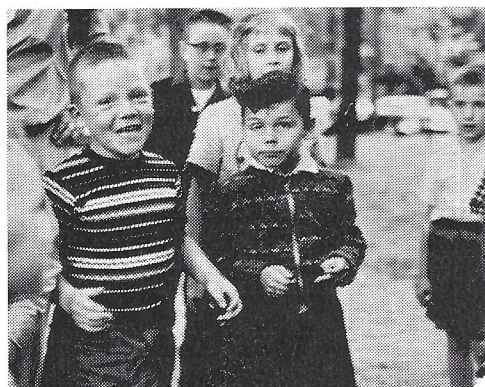

MASSIVE MUSCLES of Bottlers subdue the Brewers in back-breaking "Tug Of War."

RESTING IN the "bleachers" afforded picnickers a chance to rest up for other activities.

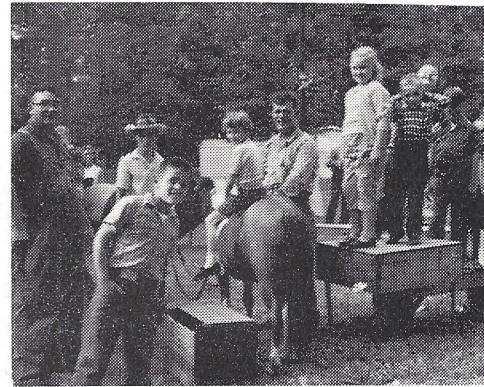

COMBINED EFFORTS pay off as four resourceful youngsters figure out a way to scale the greased pole.

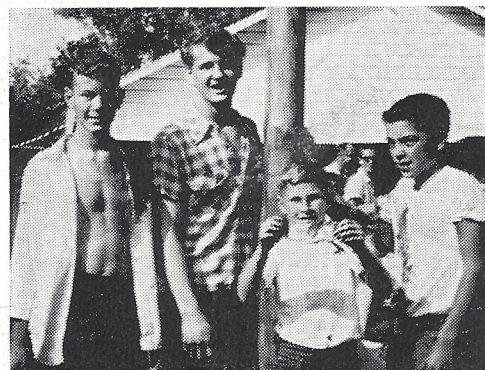

SMALL FRY exhibit mixed emotions but the predominant feeling seems to be one of happiness.

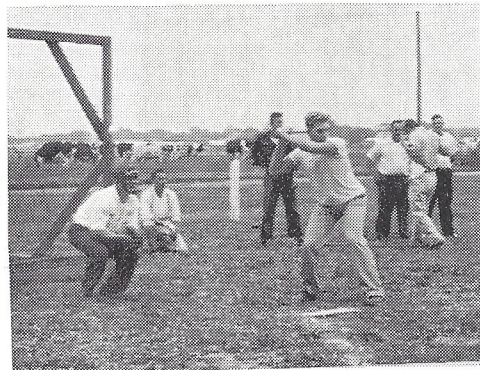

BINGO PROVED to be especially popular with the wives while the men were engaged in sports activities.

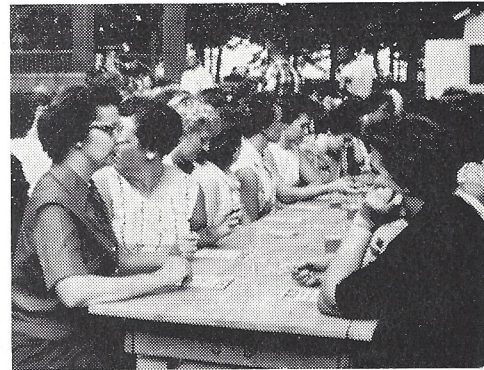

A LONG line of anxious children was a regular sight as they waited their turn to ride the pony.

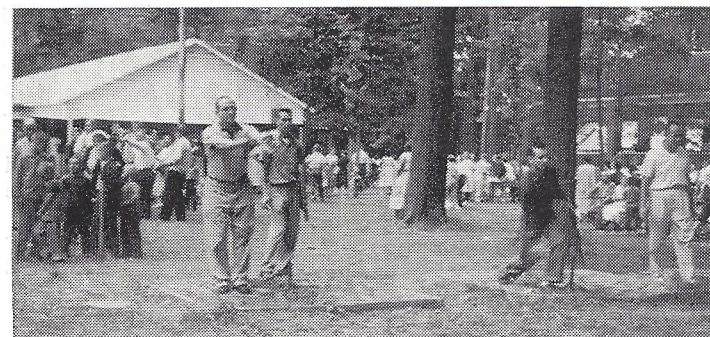

TEN DOLLARS richer are Engene Reinboldt, Melvin Bierlein, Jerry Rau, and Dalton Kaul, expert climbers.

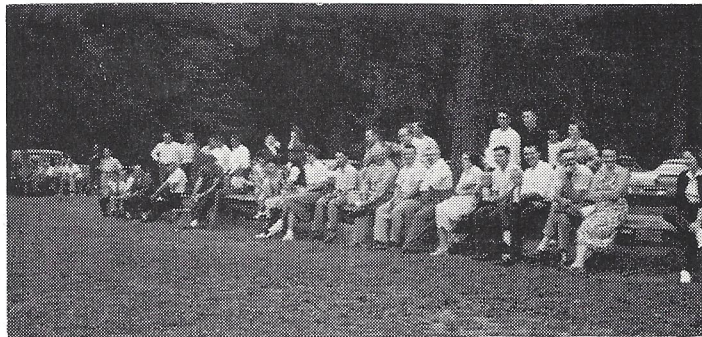

ACTION WAS the word for the softball game in which the Bottlers downed the Brewers nine, six to two.

MORE BINGO players, proving beyond a doubt that the chance of winning a prize had popular appeal.

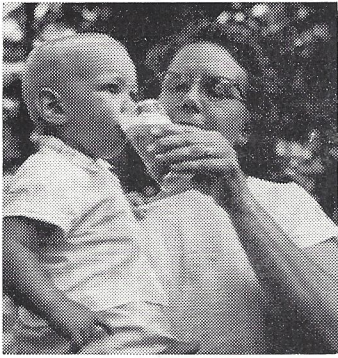

RINGERS WERE not too common, but pitching horseshoes was one of the more popular activities of the day.

BASEBALL FANS seemed to enjoy the contest between the Bottlers and the Brewers.

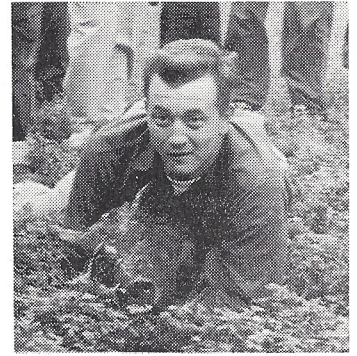

Contests, Games and Sports Add Excitement to the Once-a-Year Picnic

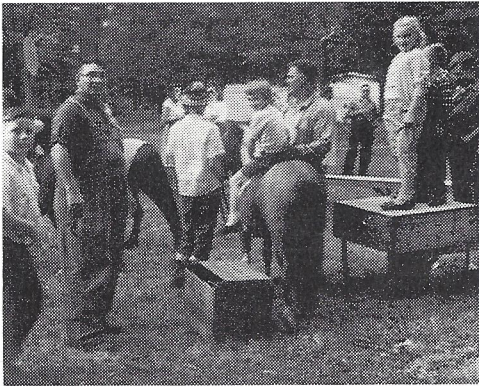

A COOL drink is enjoyed by Terry Scott Rau, grandson of Mrs. Clarence Reif.

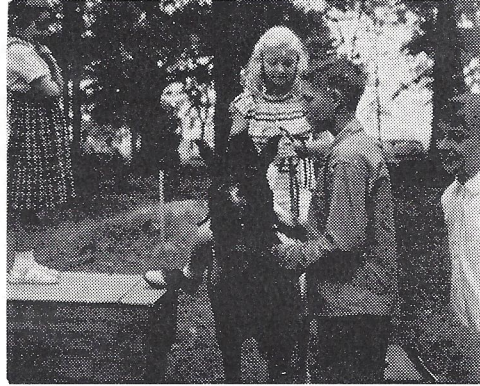

CREDIT FOR organizing the picnic and making all the necessary arrangements goes to the hard-working picnic committee who also conducted the day's activities.

"I GOTSHA!" says Bill Rauh, Cellars, who won the greased pig by catching him.

ALWAYS MORE children seemed waiting for their big thrill - getting astride a real, live pony!

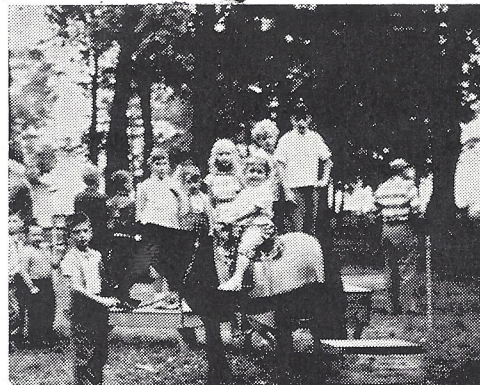

AND, ONCE astride, the satisfaction was hard to measure and, of course, on-lookers got almost as big a kick!

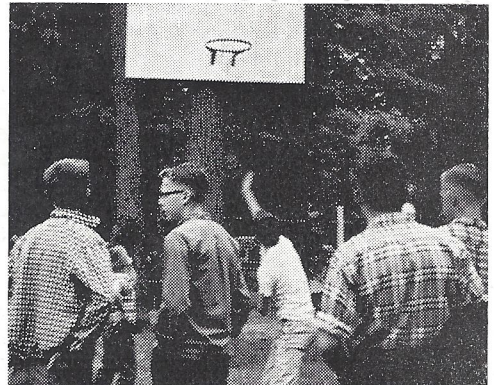

A MAD scramble into a pile of sawdust resulted when $5 worth of pennies were mixed into it in the "Penny Scramble."

HAPPY CHICKEN-chase winners are Glenn Harris, Connie Bradburn, Willie Dell, Gary Rushford, and Tom Keinath.

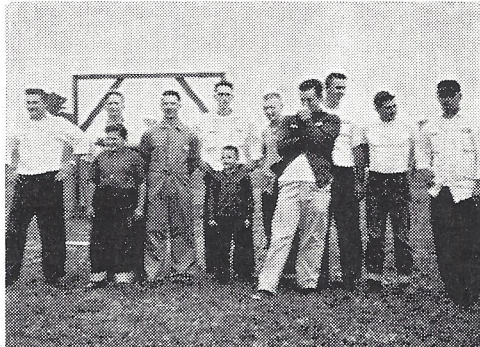

EVEN THE smallest of children attending the family outing found time to try a ride on the pony!

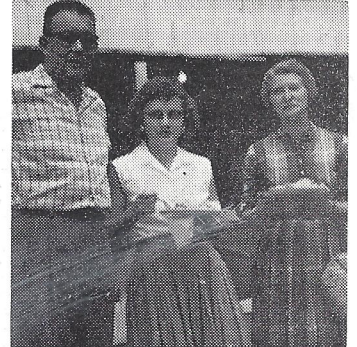

AMONG TEEN-age boys, shooting baskets was a challenge.

APPLYING A coat of grease to Porky are Rudy Strobel, Mart Eischer and Harold Matzke.

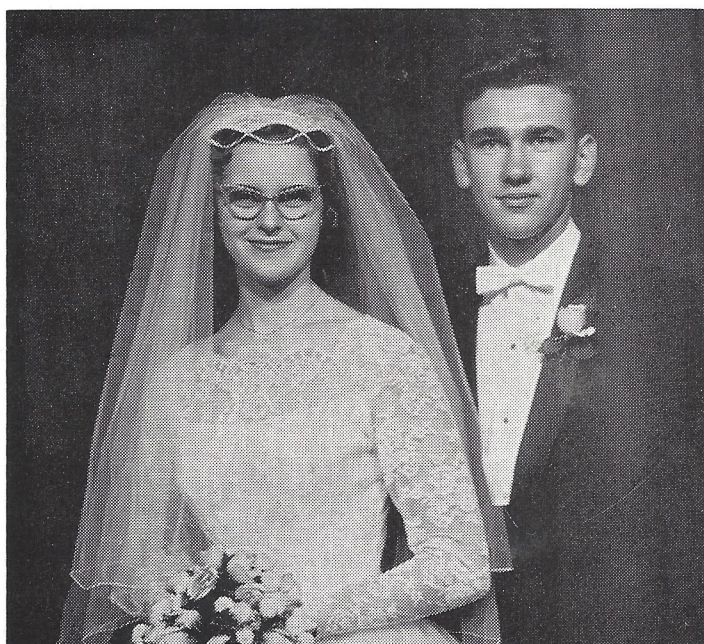

THE PIG chase proved to be one of the most popular events, at least from the spectators point of view, because everyone seemed to enjoy watching efforts to snare the beast.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rupprecht Enjoy September Honeymoon in Northern Michigan

Now settled in Frankenmuth after a honeymoon in northern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rupprecht, above, who were married in a candlelight ceremony at St. Michael's Lutheran Church on Saturday, September 6th. The newly-weds were honored with a reception for 250 persons at the church school following their wedding. Mr. Rupprecht is employed in the Bottle House.

August Safety Slogan Contest Winners

Awarded Singing Tea Kettle Prizes

"Safety Doesn't Cost Anything - Until You Forget It."

That's the safety slogan you'll need to know to qualify for a prize in this month's Safety Slogan Contest.

August winners, each of whom received a singing tea kettle, were: Mrs. Virginia Tremonti, Ottomar Rupprecht, Mrs. Leo A. Rousseau, Mrs. David Stuart, Mrs. Max Erndt, Anton Kern, Marshall Fabbro, Mrs. Harold Matzke, Cloyd Persons, and Mrs. Ellsworth Doud.

Continuation of the monthly contest, of course, depends upon our maintaining a perfect safety record through each month.

Black Label Keglers Set Season Record Despite Bad Break and Handicap Score

Members of the Black Label bowling team in the Frankenmuth City League are still delighted with that wonderful series they bowled against Universal-Engineering on September 22, but they can't help wishing that things had worked out just a little better.

The team's score -- 3006 pins -- is the highest bowled in Saginaw County so far this season, but what disturbs members of the team is that they might have done so much better if fate had been kinder.

Ray Weiss, for example, bowled a 275 total in the last game, and that's an unusually fine score, of course. But Ray bowled nine consecutive strikes in that game, then, in the last frame got a spare.

Three more strikes would have given Ray a perfect 300 game!

Use Handicap Score

Then too, Norman "Red" Zeilinger, owner of Zeilinger Beverage Company and sponsor of the team, was away that evening on business. Hence, the team was obliged to bowl without him and substitute his below-average handicap figure.

Had "Red" been there and bowled his average, the final count would have been substantially higher.

Team members racked up the impressive total of 67 strikes in downing the UE team 3006 pins to 2739 pins.

Here's how the scoring was done: Lloyd Keinath had 195-221-216 for a 632 total. Charles Zeilinger had 216-182-190 for a 588 total. Herb Naegele had 203-216-195 for a 614 total. And Ray Weiss had 189-210-275 for a 674 total.

While they have several regrets, the Black Label team members are nevertheless mighty proud of this score, and it gives them -- and all other teams in the league -- something to shoot at as the season progresses!
